THANKS A MILLION
Our magazine campaign has turned out to be an example of what a group of people can do when they try hard enough. The goal of the sales of magazines was set at $750 and can you guess we nearly doubled that!

"Who's ahead?"

"Commercials?"

"How was the movie?"

"Working hard?"

STUDENT ANTICS
Wednesday the student council sponsored an amateur show to give holiday air to the Thanksgiving vacation. Dear reader you'd be surprised at the amount of talent to be found at this school located in Mahomet, Illinois. It's simply amazing. Hill singers and popular singers, skit dancers, all got up there on the stage and gave performances that made everyone blink their eyes in amazement. The student council made a resolution that from now on any student who would be made open to the public. The only trouble is that they can't anymore this

THE SECRET

Do you sometimes wonder why the girls and boys of Mahomet High are so happy. Well, maybe some of them aren't happy about the same things, but I do know that the boys and girls in the Chorus are always smiling. They are a very happy group and also a very large group. In girl's chorus the number of members is 45, a very large number considering the size of the school. The boy's chorus has doubled its membership since last year.

AW C'MON OVER

You won't regret it if you do come because you will surely enjoy yourself. You'll even get a chance to sing with the rest of the people. You just can't afford to miss it. You still didn't guess what is going on? The answer is "Twas The Night Before Christmas," a beautiful little play given by the choruses and band of Mahomet High School.

The kids in the cast have set their hearts on making this Christmas play the best given at their school. Not only have they been practicing their songs and music diligently, but they also have a little plot worked into the show to make it doubly interesting.

"NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS"
 Gala things are going to be happening at Mahomet High on December 17, the Sunday before Christmas, for this is the day the band and the chorus will join forces to present a beautiful cantata called "Night Before Christmas." The cantata given this year will be more beautiful and better than any ever given before, so say the kids in the choruses and the band. The songs will be a mixture of popular and old-time carols. If you come, they'll give you a chance to sing with them in a few of the better known carols.
 If you have any old fashioned costumes, say from the '90's or the gay '20's, please let Miss Findley or a member of the chorus know about it. These costumes are going to be used in the cantata.
 If you don't have anything planned for Sunday, December 17, why don't you make it a point to come over and listen to some good music and entertainment. You won't regret coming.

GOOD OLD F. H. A.
 The week of November 5-12 is National F. H. A. week. The Mahomet Chapter is celebrating this week with a store display at Jahr's and a skit to be given in the Study Hall. Also a bulletin board has been put in the Study Hall so everyone can see some of the accomplishments, aims, and purposes of our chapter. Betty Busick, Joyce Burnett, and Carolyn Grindley are in charge of the store display. Volunteers will be used for the assembly skit.

Mahomet High Students Hold Exchange Project
 MAHOMET, Dec. 14—(BSC)—Several home economics pupils at Mahomet high school are collecting toys and clothing in exchange for holly, mistletoe and evergreens. Isabel Swan, home economics instructor, received a letter recently from Mabel Margon, a student, suggesting the...

"KEEP TURNING THE HANDLE, KIDDO"
 "Some more salt over here, melting." These were the words on August 11, when the school held an ice cream party at a small group, everyone's home. Although there is a pleasant time, this F. H. A. is a very active group because the officers met again on Aug. 17 to decide the coming events for the school year. They have planned some activity for every month of the school year. The first event will take place in September and will have a Western theme.
